A Note From Mrs. Smith...

Dear Parents and Students,

Congratulations to our girls basketball teams—both 5/6 and 7/8—for a great season! I love that our students go out on the court ready to work hard and that they remember the virtues we work on in school while they play the game.

March is moving along, and next week we will have author Alan St. Jean back to lead a three day Writer's Workshop for our Blue Waves! I'm very excited about this because I was impressed when Mr. St. Jean visited our students during Catholic Schools Week. As we wrap up our most recent piece in WW by publishing with a due date of Tuesday, this is the perfect time for an expert in the field to come on in and help us become even better writers!

We have just a week and a half left of March Reading Month! Our class is doing great reaching goals and moving along the board in the library! We are especially excited that Richard and Kaydence have reached "God's Sweet Kingdom"! Students can reach three goals over the weekend, which would mean everyone would move at least one space in the library. Please ask your child if s/he is reading over the weekend!

I pray that you are experiencing God's love and healing this Lent in whatever way you may need it most. I hope you are taking extra quiet time with the Lord. May God bless our SPS family.

In Christ, Mrs. Smith

Odds & Ends...

We welcome Michigan House of Representatives member Ben Frederick to St. Paul School next week! He'll be sharing a book about democracy in the United States (don't worry, we put a fun twist on what sounds not-so-exciting!) His visit will be on Monday.

LOOKING AHEAD:

- Mar. 23—Stations of the Cross 2:30
- Mar 29—No School Mass
- Mar. 29—End 3rd Quarter & 1/2 day
- Mar. 29-Apr. 8—Spring Break
- Apr. 14—SPS Totally 80's Dinner Auction!! Get your tickets in the office—you don't want to miss it!
