

SEPTEMBER

Week of October 2, 2017

CLASSROOM UPDATE:

We are working diligently on learning the Southeast region! A huge thanks to Samantha Santrucek for bringing in lots of yummy foods for us to try! We had jambalaya, collard greens, BBQ sandwiches, fried chicken, ambrosia and sweet potato pie! Their test and scrapbooks are due on Friday, October 13.

In reading, we are working on inferencing, making predictions, highlighting and pulling out important information, and restating questions when we answer them in our writing. I am working through the class with DRA and will have all of their assessment information for you at P/T Conferences in a few weeks. We had a visit from author Julie Wenzlick this week! Last March, she joined us to share her books with us. The night before she came, she had finished another book. She got some of the kids' input on the illustrations and when she visited us this week, she showed us her final product! What a cool thing for the kids to see the process of writing! Order forms went home for her book - please get those returned asap!

In Math, we are working through measurement using units (cm, in, feet, yards) and next week we are moving on to money and then time.

In Religion, we just finished the 10 Commandments and will be moving on to the Fruits of the Holy Spirit. We are looking at fall field trip possibilities and we would like to plan it with service in mind. We are working with Sr. Dorothy on some ideas, so stay tuned...

IMPORTANT DATES:

10/2 Finishing NWEA testing
10/9 No School!
10/13 SE Region Test /
Scrapbook Due

ASK YOUR CHILD...

- The Southeast Region
- Southeastern foods
- Inferencing activities
- Measuring the playground!

REMINDER!

There is no school on Monday, October 9!
Teachers are headed to
Lumen Christi High School
in Jackson and will be learning great stuff to take back to the classroom!