CLASSROOM UPDATE:

We made it through our first full week of school! What a great end to the week with our awesome Student Council Convention and learning all about the Constitution in our classroom!

Please be sure you take a look at your child's planner pages in their Take Home Binder. This comes home nightly and must be returned the following day. As we go through our routines and procedures, I've taken things slowly, adding something every day.

I want these routines to become second nature and not overwhelming.

This week, we begin NWEA testing! Please be sure your child gets as much rest as possible, eats a healthy breakfast and snack and is ready and focused for our week!

Nightly, your child should have homework - 10-15 minutes of Math as well as reading. This should take no longer than 45 minutes. Please contact me if homework is an issue in your home! I try to respect your busy schedules and not be a burden, but they need to have that nightly responsibility. I do a lot of project based grading, so big projects with graded due dates are important!

On Monday we will begin a new reading challenge. This will go until Halloween. You will receive a letter about it Monday via paper and email.

Their Southwest Region Scrapbook is due on Friday. They will be given time daily to work on this, but it is also expected that they work on it at home as well. The rubric is at the end of the scrapbook. It's worth 100 points. They will also have a test over the states and capitals in that region on Friday.

Please join us Thursday at 10:00am for Grandparents/VIP Day!

HELP!

I love to provide snacks or do art projects or experiments with food. It's important to me to always include everyone. In order to do this, I need your help. Please check your email and fill out the questionnaire ASAP! This will be kept confidential!
